DIVISION OF RECYCLING
2003 RULEMAKING CALENDAR SCHEDULE B ATTACHMENT

2002, 2001, and 2000 RULEMAKING TO BE COMPLETED
as of January 2003

SUBJECT	SUMMARY	SECTIONS
Handling Fee Eligibility and Handling Fee Appeals	Modify regulatory language to address handling fee eligibility for recycling centers operating in exempt zones to encourage recyclers to serve a greater number of convenience zones.	2516, 2519
Inspection Authority	The proposed changes to the regulations will allow the Division to examine material upon which the commingled rate is based and will permit the inspection of financial records to study economical and cost-effective recycling methods.	2125
Payment of Refund Value	Revise current regulations to permit recycling centers to give customers who bring in 50 or less empty beverage containers of each material type, the option of being paid by container count or weight.	2535
Penalties and Interest Charges, Notice of Violation and Informal Hearing Requirements	The proposed language will reflect the actual practice of the Division by specifying that interest for late payment or non-payment of fees shall accrue beginning the day after the payment is due. The proposed regulations will also address other collection and payment deficiencies.	2100, 2130
Recycler and Processor Reporting Requirements	The proposed regulations will revise recycler reporting requirements by providing information on how to calculate processing payments based on the applicable redemption weight and revising the DR-6 Form and incorporating the needed changes.	2425, 2530
Glass Cleaning	This regulation would change the cleaning requirements for glass to "fitness for use" rather than meeting ASTM standards. Fitness for use standards are standards that are specific to an individual end-user based on their needs rather than on the stringent requirements set forth in the ASTM standards. This would allow more glass to be used for a variety of purposes, and divert more glass from landfills.	2425
Glass Container Cancellation	Clarify the definition of glass cancellation to require that all glass containers must be canceled by a certified beneficiating processor. This will reduce the amount of glass containers that can be re-redeemed.	2000, 2401, 2501
Glass Minimum Content	These regulations would clarify the procedures to follow in the determination of granting or denying a glass container manufacturer's request for a waiver or reduction in regards to the minimum content requirements for glass.	Add subsection
Persons Importing Beverage Containers	Clarify the term "persons importing". Specify reporting requirements for importers, including the form, content, timing and method of documenting beverage container materials being imported in California.	2000, add subsection
Plastic Beverage Container Cancellation	Clarify the definition for cancellation of plastic beverage containers to require shredding, perforation or physical separation of the containers as the only acceptable means of cancellation. This will reduce the ability to re-redeem plastic beverage containers.	2000, 2401, 2501
Shrinkage Adjustment for Plastic Beverage Containers	This proposal would allow DOR and processors to deny the redemption weight of material when plastic used beverage containers filled or partially filled with liquids are discovered in a load of materials presented for CRV.	2401
Supplemental Payments to	Prohibit Curbside operators from stockpiling containers in order to report those containers during the 3-month period	Add Subsection

SUBJECT	SUMMARY	SECTIONS
Curbsides and Neighborhood Dropoff Programs	when the amount of the supplemental payments is determined.
Temporary Certification	Allow temporary certification to DPCPs or SPs for collecting beverage containers at one-day or short-term special events. This temporary certification must be applied for at least 45 days prior to the event. Once the event is complete, as shown on the application, the certification would expire.	2000, 2055 and 2060(a)
2001 and 2000 Cancellation Authorization and Processor Responsibility	Require processors to demonstrate substantial justification and good cause for the Division to approve an authorization to cancel to a certified recycler or processor. Require the processor to designate as its agent the recycler or processor that receives an authorization to cancel, thereby accepting liability for the acts of its agent, including but not limited to failure to inspect. Broaden the Divisions' ability to deny an authorization to cancel. Specify the Division's authority to immediately revoke an authorization to cancel if the recycling center or processor violates the Act or the regulations.	2000, 2110, 2420, 2430
2000 Daily Load Limits	Reverse daily load limits from 500 lbs. To 100 pounds for aluminum and plastic and from 2,500 lbs for glass to 1000 lbs. to ensure proper inspection and discourage recyclers from purchasing from non-certified persons, operations or entities.	2501, 2535

Community Development Branch, Services and Supports Section	Yvonne McCuistion Tucker, Chief Services and Supports Section 654-1571	July 2003 following adoption of emergency regulations	unknown	unknown	unknown

Discussion:
The governor proposes transfer of the Habilitation Services Program from the Department of Rehabilitation (DOR) to the Department of Developmental Services (DDS). Existing WIC Sections 19350 - 19361 currently place this program in DOR. The legislative proposal to accomplish this will be included in the Trailer Bill for FY 2003/2004. In its current draft, proposed WIC 4859 gives DDS authority to adopt regulations to establish rates for work activity programs. WIC 4866 allows for emergency regulations to pay work-activity programs based on their average daily consumer attendance during days in which there has been a state of emergency declared in the program's local city or county. The current intention is for DDS to adopt, under emergency regulation authority, the existing regulations DOR uses to implement the program (Title 9, Chapter 11, Article 2, Sections 7336 through Article 4, Section 7349) with relatively minor changes, so that the emergency regulations will be in effect on July 1, 2003.

Report on the status of all uncompleted rulemaking described on previous calendars:

As proposed in last year's calendar, the Department began the process of updating its regulations regarding credit unions. The Office of Administrative Law published the proposal on April 26, 2002. The Department of Financial Institutions intends to file the final regular rulemaking on or before January 31, 2003.

Last year, the Department proposed to enact regulations affecting the operations of transmitters of money aboard. The project is still in the informal comment stage, which the Department hopes to finish before the end of January, 2003. To protect against the process being delayed longer than that date, the present Schedule B includes a similar reference to the reference contained in last year's calendar.

None of the other regulation projects set forth in last year's calendar were pursued pending completion of the transmitters and credit union regulation projects.

Report on the status of all uncompleted rulemaking described on previous calendars: Emergency regulations (per statute) were adopted and approved by OAL January 13, 2000, and a revised set of emergency regulations was adopted and approved by OAL on February 8, 2000. Those regulations were readopted for periods of 120 days on May 30, 2000; September 20, 2000; January 16, 2001; May 11, 2001; September 4, 2001; December 26, 2001; May 1, 2001; August 28, 2001; and, most recently, on December 26, 2002. We continue to renew the regulations on an emergency basis instead of embarking on the regular rulemaking procedure because the statute authorizing the regulations has been enjoined by the United States District Court since June 2000. That injunction remains in effect during ongoing litigation regarding the constitutionality of the statute.

Although a bulletin issued 10/22/79, mandated compliance with the Guidelines, they have never been formally incorporated by reference into the California Code of Regulations (CCR).	No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Therefore, no alternatives which would lessen the impact on small businesses have been identified. Intended Benefits: An option to incorporating the Guidelines would be to promulgate specified minimum standards as expressed in chapter revisions of the Selection Manual into the CCR. This would allow for a reconfiguration of manual sections so as to indicate those procedures that constitute minimum standards and therefore must be implemented by all departments as differentiated from "best practices" that are recommended but not required. That is, for every activity discussed in the Selection Manual, certain procedures would be mandated as minimum requirements, and other procedures would be recommended but not mandated. With such mandated procedures required by regulation, sanctions could be applied when minimum standards are not met. Economic Impacts: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Problems Addressed and Reasons Why Regulations are Necessary:
Those statutory provisions authorizing the employee or applicant to file an answer or appeal with SPB do not specify what information must be contained within the answer or appeal and, as a general rule, most employees or applicants file a very general statement of appeal requesting an investigation or hearing, without specifying any affirmative defenses or requests for relief that the employee or applicant intends to raise during the course of the investigation or hearing. It is often only after the investigation or hearing has commenced that the employee or applicant notifies the responding party of the specific affirmative defenses or requests for relief that the employee or applicant intends to put at issue during the investigation or hearing.

Alternatives Considered That Would Lessen Adverse Impact on Small Businesses:
No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Therefore, no alternatives which would lessen the impact on small businesses have been identified.

Intended Benefits:
SPB is proposing to adopt new Section 63 of Title 2 of the California Code of Regulations in order to

1. Expedite the hearing or investigation process by timely notifying all parties to the hearing or investigation of all issues that will be presented during the course of the hearing or investigation, so that timely discovery can be conducted, thereby reducing or eliminating the need for continuances to be granted in the case as the result of affirmative defenses or requests for relief that would otherwise be first raised during the course of the hearing.
2. Inform individuals filing answers or appeals with SPB of those specific matters that must be contained within the answer or appeal, and notifying individuals that any affirmative defense or request for relief that is not set forth in the answer or appeal shall be deemed waived, unless an amended answer or appeal is filed in accordance with SPB rule.

The proposed amendment would modify the existing rule to permit an appellant, who has appealed to SPB from a dismissal, to request an expedited evidentiary hearing before a SPB administrative law judge (ALJ) on the grounds that he or she would be irreparably harmed if the hearing is not expedited and has a significant likelihood of prevailing on the merits.	No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Therefore, no alternatives which would lessen the impact on small businesses have been identified. Intended Benefits: It is anticipated that this amended process, which eliminates the strict requirement that the non-moving party stipulate to an expedited hearing before such hearing can be conducted, will help ensure that dismissed employees who might otherwise be irreparably harmed if their dismissal is not adjudicated in as expeditious a manner as possible, will have better recourse to such a process. Economic Impacts: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments.	None Sunset Review: To be determined Major Regulation: No Fiscal Impact: Local Government: No fiscal impact State Government: No fiscal impact Federal Funding of State Program: No fiscal impact

All qualified applicants should have equal access to State examinations through an established process for advertising examinations open for testing. Currently, examinations are conducted by SPB and delegated to individual state departments for departmental and servicewide classifications, as deemed appropriate by SPB. There is no standardized or required distribution for state examination announcements. This has resulted in prospective job applicants inability to locate state employment opportunities for which they may qualify. Additionally, the filing period for examinations needs to be defined to establish minimum publicity periods.	Adverse Impact on Small Businesses: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Therefore, no alternatives which would lessen the impact on small businesses have been identified. Intended Benefits: The State of California's civil service system is based on the principles of merit which includes affording the opportunity for all qualified applicants to compete in state examinations. Although the board has the authority to limit the size of candidate groups in entry-level and non-promotional examinations, when deemed in the best interest of the state, it has no rules to establish standardized publicity periods or dissemination of examination announcements. Establishment of the proposed rules would ensure that all qualified applicant's have equal access to information related to state examinations open for testing. Economic Impacts: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Problems Addressed and Reasons Why Regulations are Necessary:
It is necessary to clarify the timeframes for filing a complaint of retaliation with the five-member State Personnel Board (Board) for having reported improper governmental activity, and for filing a discrimination complaint with the Board once an appointing power has acted or failed to act on an internal complaint. It is also necessary to clarify the procedures for conducting evidentiary hearings before the Board or its designated representative.

Additional regulatory changes are projected regarding adverse action/disciplinary transfer appeal process; medical termination/demotion/transfer appeal process; non-punitive termination/demotion/transfer appeal process; rejection during probationary period appeal process; termination of Career Executive Assignment appeal process; termination of limited-term appointment appeal process; and the procedures for conducting non-evidentiary hearings before the Board or its designated representative. Another proposal would provide that the Board shall dismiss a case pending before Appeals Division for more than 3 years, making dismissal discretionary with the Board.

Alternatives Considered That Would Lessen Adverse Impact on Small Businesses:
No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Therefore, no alternatives which would lessen the impact on small businesses have been identified.

Intended Benefits:
One of the Board's missions is to resolve civil service disputes efficiently and fairly. A regulation change, subject to executive staff approval, would delineate the necessary filing requirements that must be met by civil service employees when filing complaints and/or appeals of alleged acts of retaliation, discrimination/harassment, or wrongful denial of reasonable accommodation requests with the Board. The changes would also delineate the procedures for the conduct of evidentiary hearings before the Board or the Board's designated representative. These changes have been determined to be a high priority by the executive staff.

Between 1993 and 1998, CEA positions increased by 55.6% compared to an increase of 3.2% in the State civil service employment rolls. It is likely that many of the recent managerial conversions to CEAs would not have been approved if the requests had first been evaluated using criteria based on projected proposed regulations.	A regulation change is projected, subject to executive staff approval, that would provide criteria intended to clarify the original intent of the CEA implementing legislation. Alternatives Considered That Would Lessen Adverse Impact on Small Businesses: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. There is currently no reference in SPB Rules to the "alternate" list appointments A20, A21, and A22. These are treated the same as the A01 list appointments for lateral transfers and should be referenced. Also, the consecutive transfer rule language is not all-inclusive with regard to deep-class progression.	Adverse Impact on Small Businesses: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Therefore, no alternatives which would lessen the impact on small businesses have been identified. Intended Benefits: SPB rule 435 could be modified with language taken from the Personnel Management Policy and Procedures Manual to the effect that consecutive transfers cannot result in salary advancement of two steps or more of the maximum salary of the class in which the employee had a list appointment (A01). Appointment to a deep class (footnote 21 in the pay scale), allows an employee to exceed the two step limit through progression through the alternate ranges up the maximum salary of the class. An SPB reallocation (A20), split off (A21), or Board-ordered permanent appointment (A22), provides the same status and is therefore treated the same as a list appointment (A01). Economic Impacts: No adverse impact on small businesses is anticipated from the implementation of the proposed amendments. Problems Addressed and Reasons Why Regulations are Necessary:
It may be necessary to adopt regulations to clarify the provisions of GC Section 19253.5(i), which became effective on January 1, 2000, and which, among other things: (1) permit an appointing power to apply to PERS for disability retirement on behalf of an eligible employee who can no longer perform any position within the agency; (2) require the appointing power to provide a 15-day prior written notice; (3) permit the appointing power to place the employee on involuntary leave pending PERS's decision on the disability retirement application; (4) pending PERS's decision, require the appointing power to continue to contribute to the employee's health plans and, if the employee exhausts all his/her leave credits and programs, to pay the employee an interim disability allowance; (5) require PERS to reimburse the appointing power if PERS grants the application; and (6) if PERS denies the application, require the appointing power to reinstate the employee and pay all lost back-pay and benefits, minus any interim disability allowance the appointing power may have paid.

Transfers must not circumvent the normal examination process required for promotion. To allow an employee to accept a permanent list appointment to the same class to which he/she previously transferred and achieved permanent status would provide the employee with further transfer opportunities to higher classes.    Subsequent to the enactment of AB 201 (Chapter 621, Statutes of 2001), AB 2967 was chaptered into law (Chapter 581, Statutes of 2002) (effective January 1, 2002). AB 2967 amended some provisions that were being addressed in the regulations package implementing AB 201, specifically section 94945 of the Education Code. Therefore, the Bureau made conforming changes to the regulations package implementing AB 201 based on amendments made to section 94945 of the Education Code by AB 2967 (see Schedule A). A 15-day renotice is planned for February 2003.

Adopt Chapter 8 (commencing with section 77000), Division 7.5 of Title 5 CCR.

   - First draft of regulations completed and submitted for review by the Legal unit.
   - Some issues/rules were resolved by amendments to the law via AB 2967 (Chapter 581, statutes of 2002) which became effective January 1, 2003 (see section 94931, Education Code).
   - Proposed regulations pending revision in view of changes made by AB 2967.

4. Section 100. Degree-Granting Schools. Renumber and make other changes without regulatory effect to conform references, authority and crossreferences to the Private Postsecondary and Vocational Education Reform Act of 1989.

Report on the status of all uncompleted rulemaking described on previous calendars:
The Department planned to initiate this rulemaking in 2002 but other priorities forced a delay until 2003.

These regulations were first adopted in 1977. This rulemaking will clarify the implementation of 1993 and 2002 legislation. Affected governments will include cities, counties, and districts that own public-use airports.

The regulation needs revising to reflect current statutes, but will not increase or decrease the economic impact that exists with the current regulations.
